What has high school done for you emotionally?

Henry Fischer: High school is probably the best time of life. There is so much to do and so many people to get to know; some you get very close to. I'm just not sure how I'm going to feel when school is out and all my friends go their own way.

Tom Adler: Being at DuBourg with the number of kids that go here, I must have felt every emotion possible for a person to feel.

Tess Nauert: My four years at DB have brought huge changes for me emotionally. I have learned how to make the best of things and I've learned to be happy.

Monica Niemira: This high school has helped me to deal with other people who hear normally. I did not believe that these other people would be so nice in helping me with my hearing problems.

Donna Bartholic: High school has made me grow. It gave me the chance to meet new people and to learn about them. High school has been the best and the most emotional years of my life. I have had good times, sad times, and memorable times with some of the nicest people I'll ever know. I'll miss DB. It's my home away from home.

What advice would you give an incoming freshman?

Greg Kressaty: High school is hard and tough, but don't give up. You'll learn a lot and before you know it you'll be graduating.

Carrie Mudd: Work hard, have fun, don't waste a minute — it goes by so quickly. I know, because only yesterday I was a freshman. So — enjoy!

Jim Joyce: Don't worry, somewhere in these four years you'll grow up.

Peter Kline: Enjoy every day one by one — they all go by so quickly.

Lisa DiMarco: Do your best; in the future you will benefit from it. Also, get involved in school activities.

Barb Schlenk: Get involved in activities and have fun. Four years goes by fast and you can't go back to change anything, so get involved now. If you do, you'll find high school fun.

Gloria Seper: Use DB to your advantage. Get involved in sports, clubs, or supporting the teams. Work hard to get good grades.

Jim McMullan: DuBourg has been good to me and it can be for everybody. My advice: "Hey, DuBourg is what you make it. You can't blame your success or failure on anyone else."

Ed Trenary: Get the most out of high school and join as many activities as you can.

John Kostecki: Get to know as many people as you can. Not only will this help you in school, but in so many ways once you graduate.

What will you remember most about DuBourg?

Greg Neukirch: Each track and cross country season is memorable for me. Each year gave me a new challenge. I have one season left to go to state. Maybe my time has come.

Cindy Vrlenich: Making stage band and earning second honors are my top memories.

Lisa Haberberger: My fondest memory was in my junior year when the volleyball team went to State Play-offs in Kansas City. Despite the rain, Thursday's pep rally was a great way to start off our trip. The bus ride was fulfilling — literally. The junior class officers gave us a big box of food — candy, cookies, and oranges to eat on the way. Even though we came in in fourth place, we had a great time in Kansas City. I'll never forget it.

SENIORS

Ed (Sammy) Roesler: Having the DB Cavaliers beat St. Mary's football team made my year.

Mike Bequette: Being a part of DB's football team is a satisfying memory for me.

Dawn Oglesby: Last year Michele S. and I made up our first routine for the Pom-Pon Squad. The routine went so well; everybody loved it.

What was your most humorous moment?

Janet Ferner: The most humorous moment for me was the time Maria Nazzoli and I mooed to the cows when we were on retreat, and the cows mooed back!

Dave Stickney: I suppose my funniest time was when I ended up with 8 jugs and a five dollar fine, and I went through only one card.

Jerry Eichhorn: One day Marty Glaude, Bob Holway, and I skipped lunch. That day Father Suit came down to give us a truancy notice from the week before. Naturally he had caught easily the second time, so we got double truancy.

Kevin McBryan: In freshman year my friends stuffed me in a locker and locked me in.

Jody Gross: In junior year Mrs. Mueller brought her infant son Zachary to homeroom and everyone in homeroom played with him. That was fun.

me out!

What was your most bizarre moment during your high school days?

Mary Ann Wood: Mine was the time I fainted in Algebra II and Trig class junior year. Sister Rita Marie asked me to work a problem at the board. The next thing I knew, I was flat on my back, staring at the ceiling. My first thought was, "I hope nobody noticed."

Jim Whorton: My most bizarre experience happened on our HEP trip to New York. While we were on the tour bus, three of us guys decided to get our ears pierced.

What

What memory would you like to forget?

Steve Woolford: I would like to forget the day the varsity football team lost to Maplewood 14-13 and didn't qualify for the playoffs.

Joe Goedecker: The one memory I would like to forget is the time I had 10 students besides myself in my LTD for a hundred miles coming back from a Latin convention in Columbia, Missouri, while it rained all the way home.

Ty Gray: I would like to forget a football game — the score was Country Day 21, DuBourg 14 in the fourth quarter. We had the ball on fourth down and we were going to punt. We lined up; I snapped the ball but the punter didn't kick it. I had snapped the ball over his head and out of the end zone.

What was your most surprising moment in high school?

Nick Dohack: I was happily surprised in junior year when I managed to pass an Algebra II test during third quarter.

Dave Hoeing: My biggest surprise was getting a C on my report card from Mrs. Schultz.

What was your most embarrassing moment here?

Lynn Brackett: In senior year I went to the first class of the day and didn't realize until the last five minutes that I was in the wrong place. Was I embarrassed!

Mary Julian: During a basketball game sophomore year I stood up to repeat a cheer. Screaming at the top of my lungs, I misspelled the word. How embarrassing!

Harold Graef: My most embarrassing moment came after a basketball game when I learned that I accidentally locked all my clothes in a locker without a combination.

Teresa LeMatty: In freshman year with the cafeteria swarming with people, I pushed my way up in line and grabbed a milk. I accidentally dropped it in some guy's mashed potatoes and they splattered everywhere. I was so embarrassed I turned red and ran out of the cafeteria.

Mary Halfmann: On my sixteenth birthday my friends baked me a cake that had trick candles on it. There were about 10 people around the table and it took me about five minutes to realize that the cake had trick candles on it.

a dork!

Cheryl Heatherly: When about 10 other girls and I were doing our first game as C Team cheerleaders, we were nervous and excited. At halftime, the other team ran over to greet our fans and did fancy flips and cartwheels. They were really good! Then we had to run over to their side, but as we tried doing cartwheels, we fell to the ground and rolled on the ground. We were laughing so hard we couldn't run. Everyone in the stands was laughing at us.

Theresa Venegoni: Once I fell on the steps, tried to get up and dropped all my books. I was embarrassed.

Rose Mantia: I was really embarrassed when I passed out giving blood for the first time at a blood drive.

Vicki Noel: Once my desk and its contents — including me — fell over onto the floor. Everyone was laughing, but the teacher didn't seem to notice what had happened.

What was your proudest moment in high school?

Dwight Mazanec: My proudest moment was when the varsity football team won the Catholic Athletic Conference championship in 1983. This was my second time of winning; the B team won the championship when I played on that team.

Joe Maugeri: At the curtain call of my first DuBourg play, Inherit the Wind, I knew that's what I wanted to do the rest of my life. That was my proudest moment.

Donna Schomaker: Getting picked for the varsity cheerleading team in my junior year was a really big moment for me. Being on the squad for two years has been such a lot of fun.

Awesome

What is your best memory from Du-Bourg?

Panagiota Halastanis: For me it was Senior Day. For one thing, the Mass was beautiful. The dance was nice, also. My friends at the dance with me made it memorable. I will never forget my Senior Day and the dance as long as I live.

Julie Bacco: My most memorable moment was the Senior Day Mass. It made me feel really important. It also made me feel that there were people who cared for me and I cared for them. The words that Father Suit used, I think, made everyone proud to be a part of the Class of 1984 at DuBourg.

Joan Mattingly: My most memorable time was Senior Day Mass. I thought the Class of '84 showed terrific spirit and togetherness when we celebrated our day together.

Molly Shea: A truly good moment for me was on retreat when I found out who I really was. Retreat was an enjoyable experience.

Keith Hoernschemeyer: I will never forget meeting David Letterman on our HEP trip to New York City.

Kristine Sims: I remember eating candy — always — in senior English class and almost — but never — getting caught.

Dan Luepke: I transferred to DB in my junior year and since that moment I have enjoyed school so very much. The people I have met here are special to me and I will never forget the days I have spent here and the people I have met at DB. Sheila Carmickle: My best moment of all was when I walked back into DuBourg after having been in another school for one semester. I was almost crying, I was so happy to be back. The best part was that I knew I would be able to graduate with my DuBourg family.

Judy Seper: I'll never forget our trip to New York, the bizarre people, and the maniacs that drive there. Most of all I remember taking the stairs to the top of the Statue of Liberty. Theresa Noll was in front of me and complained the entire way up and the entire way down.

Juniors always figure that they are a special brand of people, but this year's group claims "to have class." Being the same age, attending the same school, and abiding by the same uniform, they still manage to reveal individuality. It's reflected in actions, speech, and clothing. We're showing you a few of the groups here, but it's impossible to fit in every individual. So here's a tribute to those who help make the class special.

Nerds express the humorous side of people; all of us are a bit of a nerd. The kid that walks home with fifteen books in his arms, his glasses with a broken lens, his shirt wrinkled, and a peanut butter and jelly sandwich dangling out of his back pocket is a nerd. Wearing clothes that never match, avoiding mirrors and seldom combing one's hair, stumbling over untied shoestrings — that's a nerd. Dashing into class, upsetting books everywhere — that's a nerd, and it could be You.

Ever hear "Preppie!" or "You Prep!" in the halls of DB? Preps, modeled after Ivy League campus styles, have been popular all three years for the juniors. Oxford shirts, pullovers, and cardigans are popular because they fit the school code. Expensive polo sweaters, bass weejuns, topsiders, and blazers are acceptable and give a fashionable look. Speech is often eloquent, reflecting years of study at Yale or Princeton, and reeking with ideas of wealth and prosperity.

What was an extremely popular style last year is still up with some of the junior girls. Created by Moon Zappa, a girl tired of society's norms, Valley is it for some. A take-off on English living, the lingo, with a slight accent, "I'm too sure, it totally blew my mind," and the latest fashions mark the Valley girl. The style is to exaggerate to an almost sarcastic degree. Many see Valley girls as insecure teenagers, but for DuBourg juniors the style creates fun and excitement especially at dances and on dress-up days.

If one hasn't found his style, there's always the Punk Rockers. Modeled after wild rock groups from England, Punkers have their style somewhat modified here at DB. Noted for their large earrings and bizarre hair styles, they are certainly one of the more colorful groups. Exotic make-up and wild clothing and anything extreme isn't far from being a true Punker. Aside from dress, Punk is mostly an attitude. Everything is hard, wild, and exciting.

No more scats

We finally made it through freshman year! That was a chore. Now — no more getting picked on by upperclassmen, no more getting lost in strange new places, no more being afraid of not having any friends. Now we know there's more to school than math, foreign languages, and forever studying. This year we're involved in extracurriculars — the Guild and its committees, the yearbook and its late hours, the pro-life and its parties. Getting involved makes school more fun because you know more people.

We be cool

Juniors and seniors have a special service club that does things to repair and beautify the school. Do the sophomores need a special club? Last fall we collected money and bought bushes of flowers which we planted along the sidewalk in front of school.

We hope the colorful chrysanthemums bloom there for years and years and make DuBourg a happy place for hundreds and hundreds of students still to come. Who knows, maybe the flowers will still be there when our children come to this school.

Talkin' massive

Sophomores feel like they're the "main" class in school because they're on the main floor. With the school being built on a slight slope of a hill, the freshman floor, which is the first floor, opens to ground level on the south of the building while the sophomore floor, the second floor, opens to ground level on the north side of the school. That makes the main entrance on the second floor and puts the main office with all of its activity on the sophomore floor. Sophomores are therefore a "main" part of the school, more than any other class.

Hang loose

Sweet sixteen and everything's great,
Trying to find our right mate.
Getting the car every night
if we can,
Hoping our curfews will soon be banned.
Putting off homework
night after night,
Then doing it fast by homeroom's light.

Dodging into johns to avoid being juggled,
Losing the books we homeward lugged.
Partying weekends is fun, you see,
— Praying we get no deficiency.
Sweet sixteen and everything's
great!
Dance next week! Have you got a date?

Go bag your face

Some people may have gotten the idea that the sophomores were "bag ladies" as they saw the sophs searching through waste barrels next to the soda machines for cans. The sophomores, with Mr. Chambers the most fanatic collector of cans, worked this year to add money to the Mr. Murray Scholarship Fund by selling aluminum cans. A really bright spot in the year was the day the price of aluminum went up to 35 cents a pound. The class set $2000 as its goal for the year to add to the donations made last year when Mr. Murray, a teacher here for many years, died suddenly.

Be for real!

We are little freshmen
Whose spirit is very high.
This year we started new
But soon we'll be done and through!
We stand tall and proud
For our school to which we've come.
We hit the books; we pass some tests;
We try to do as we're told so that
Mr. Flanagan thinks we are the best.
We give to the missions and come to dances and plays. And even though we're only freshmen, as everyone says, We're as sharp as the others when we're Dressed up for some special day.
We get out there and scream and yell
And cheer our great athletes on.
We are the freshmen;
We've got the most spirit.
Just watch us and we'll tell you:
Freshmen are the best
North, south, east, or west!

Kneeling: Jim Kavanaugh, Luisa Molina, Angie Guerrero, Jerry Laurence. Standing: Lia Butera, Betty Tarpeo, Tim Harvey, Matt Clancy, Phil Roeder, Norbert Meyer.

Totally awesome

Go down the corridor when freshmen are at their lockers and see what's being stuffed into them — books, folders, umbrellas, homework, a government project. Girls will have cute little pin-ups, magnets, and pictures of favorite guys. Fellows crowd in posters of rock groups, bumper-sticker sayings, album covers, and maybe photos of girls. Lockers are a new experience for freshmen. Once in a while a lock will get stolen or lost, some lockers stick and never seem to open, and some never close all the way. Most freshmen are neat, but a few have lockers piled with trash, left-over lunches, five or six jackets, and two-week-old smelly gym clothes.

Cool situation

Honored with, burdened with, responsible for, proud of, — whatever the mood of the day — Mrs. Elliot and Mr. Flanagan staff the first floor office and care for the freshmen. Mrs. Elliot took maternity leave at the end of the first week of school to have her third child, David. She returned to school at the end of the first quarter to resume her job as coordinator and to take over her classes in Math Applications I, Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry, and Calculus. In her absence, Mr. Flanagan handled all business, taught Algebra I and Math Applications II, and coached the girls' cross country team. He has three boys; Mrs. Elliott has two boys and two girls.

Mega hangout

Here at DuBourg we learned to create a world with new friends we make. We learned to share more and take less. We learned to feel more so we could understand others. We learned to hear more so we could listen to the needs of friends. And we learned to laugh more so we could enjoy ourselves and our friends. Between our friends and us there is no difference; Friends are as ourselves.

We're jamming

We, the Class of '87, had a very enjoyable first year at DuBourg. At first the 456 of us were afraid, afraid of many things — being tardy, getting lost, having upperclassmen harass us, not understanding algebra. There were those long corridors and so many people. There was that changing-every-day schedule. There were so many new things. But now, having been here a year, we feel much more at home. We've made new friends, but have kept the old. We've taken strange new courses, but have built on our learning from grade school. We're full of school spirit and have involved ourselves in volleyball, yearbook, pro-life, theatre, whatever. All of it has been exciting. We trust that the years to come will bring the continued growth of "getting there." Thanks to all of you for a warm welcome into the DB family.

Fer sure, fer sure

And now there's a whole world ahead of us, that is, the next three years seem like a lifetime. There'll be decisions to make, what courses to take: Continue in language? Get all the math and science we can take? Study secretarial? Then we'll have to decide about clubs and activities and sports, which to join, which will be worthwhile. There'll be friends, a boy-friend, perhaps. Maybe a crowd of friends. We'll have to decide which friendships to develop. Then a job, after that careers and college. Then a lifetime will really be before us.

Front Office

Two of DuBourg's top team are new in administration here this year. Also, titles have been shifted. Mr. Hacker, who has been with the school since its beginning at the Barracks and has been administrator since 1969, is still doing the same jobs of public relations, hiring and directing personnel, and building upkeep, but holds the title of Principal. New to Bishop DuBourg is Sister Geraldine Neier, a School Sister of Notre Dame, who applied for the job when Sister Beth was transferred last June. Sister is assistant principal in charge of academics. Doctor Gruszka taught here in the Religion Department before becoming assistant principal. He replaces Sister Marjorie in programming.

Mr. Hacker, Principal

Mr. Hacker and the faculty say farewell to Mrs. Laura Bolton who retired from her maintenance position here after 25 years.

Sister Geraldine Neier, SSND, Assistant Principal

Doctor Gruszka, Assistant Principal

MR. BAST
Biology

I hope students will develop a responsibility to others, reaching out to touch the lives of people, especially those less fortunate than themselves.

MR. BAYENS
Physical Education

Determination, drive, responsibility, self-confidence, and mental toughness should not be mere words, but rather stepping stones in becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

SISTER NANCY BECKER, SSND
Campus Ministry, Mathematics

I would hope that students at DuBourg learn to "act justly, love tenderly, and walk humbly with our God."

MR. BERKS
Library

I would like the typical DuBourg student to come away with two ideas: 1. To accept people as they are. 2. Learn how to learn.

MR. BERNDT Development, Speech

One element will always be needed: Communication. Those who have this skill will have an "edge" in the "game of life."

MRS. BROWN
Home Economics

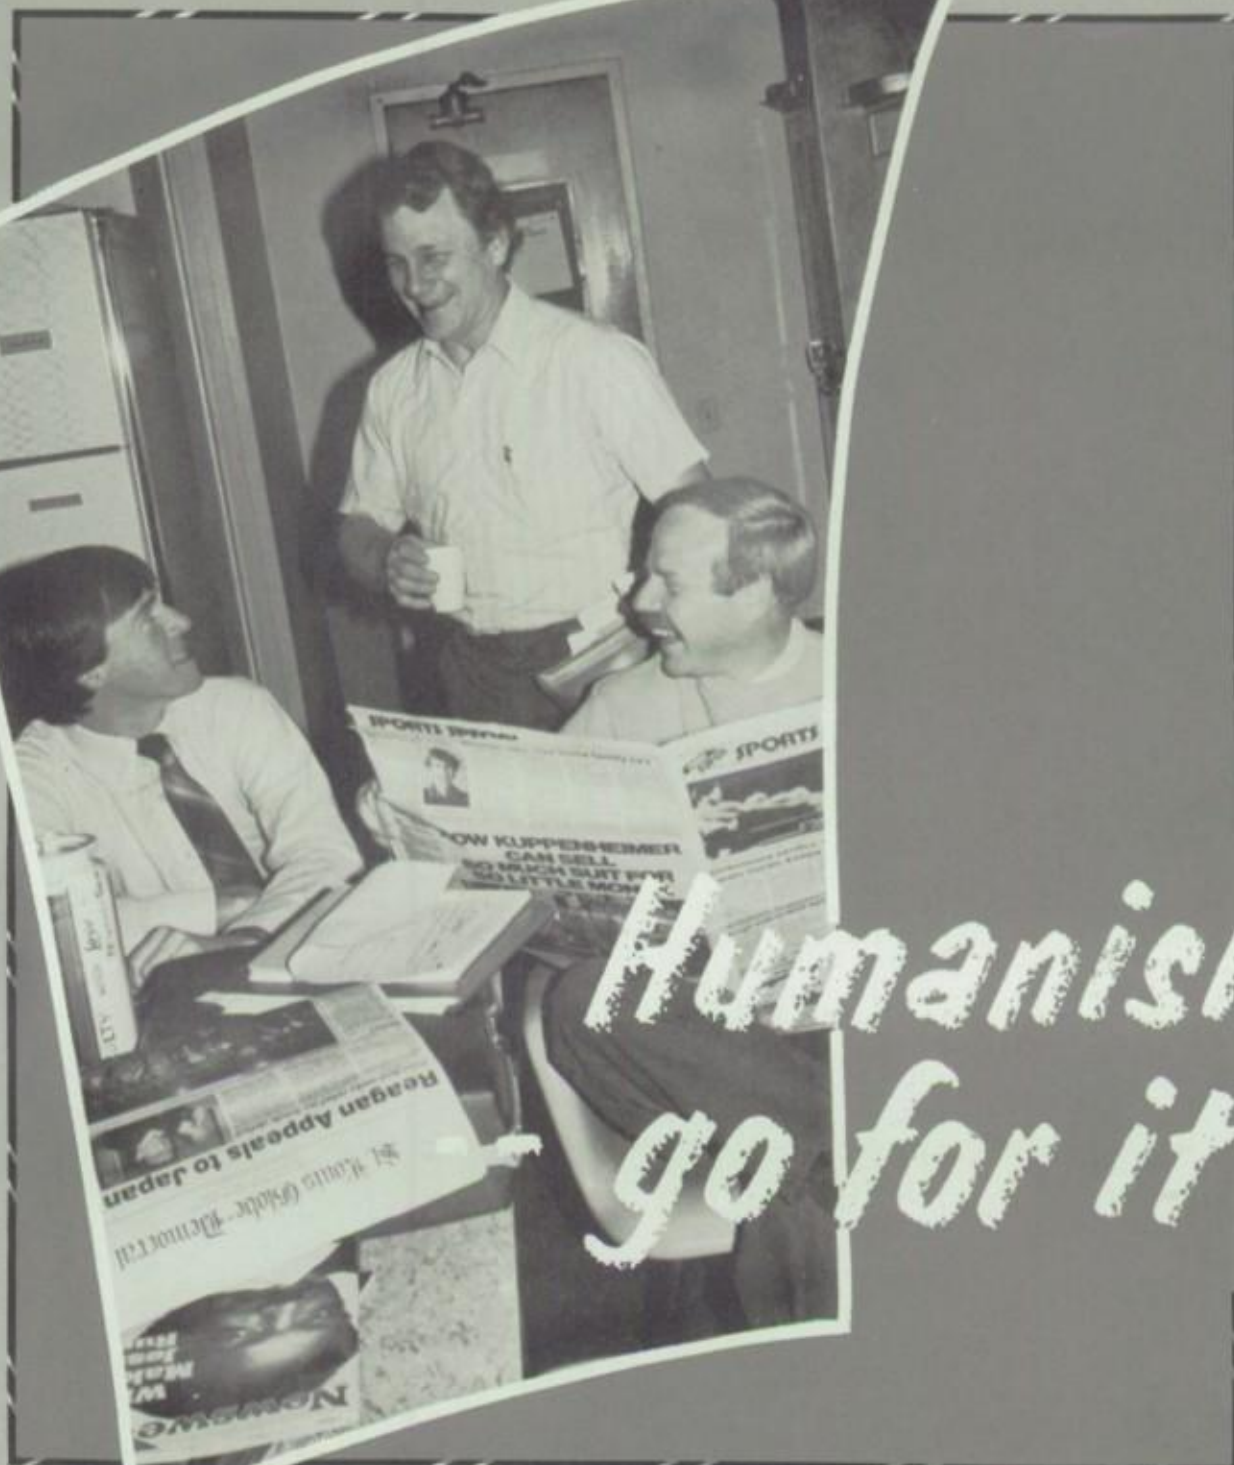

Strive to do your best in school work, and become involved in at least one activity to make friends and treasure memories.

MR. BRUTINE
Social Studies

I feel a high school student should develop a sense of humanism toward others in every aspect — both curricular and extracurricular.

MR. BURRUS
Social Studies

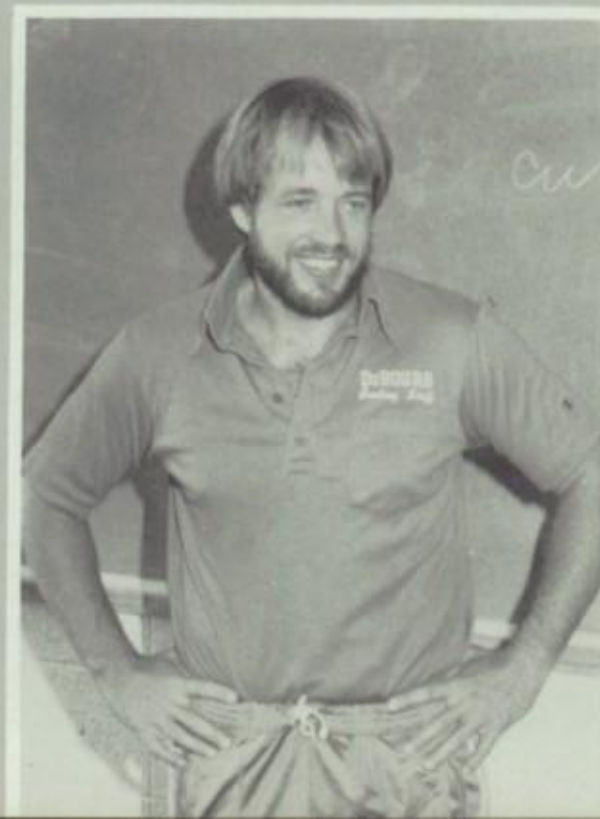

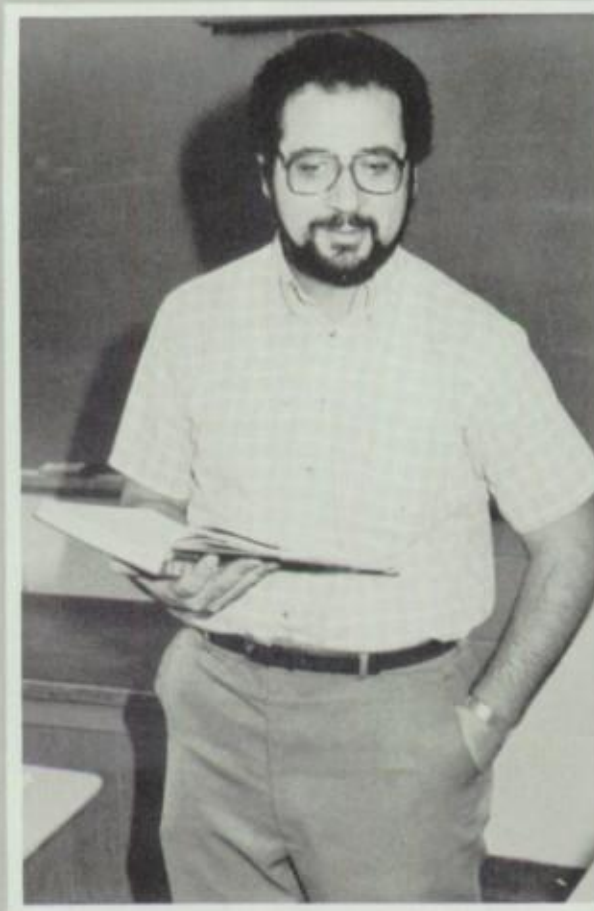

SISTER RITA MARIE BUSKEN
Mathematics

Each DuBourg student should hope to acquire that unique intellectual and moral stamina needed to meet the "tests" of life and to improve the human condition in our world.

MR. CHAMBERS
Social Studies

A student should look for opportunities to grow into adulthood. Hopefully, each one will be exposed to a field of study which he will hope to pursue for a lifetime.

MISS COCHRAN
French, Spanish

Be a lifetime learner able to adapt to a changing future. You may not use words memorized, but a language student learns to think in a very special way.

MR. DAILEY
Social Studies

Do all of your tasks to the best of your ability. You can't beat the feeling of self-satisfaction one gets from a job well done.

MISS DAILY
Business

In any class, any time, every student should be the best person they can be. That is as much as any teacher can ask of a class.

MR. DRISCOLL
English

High school is the last place in life where any foundations can be laid. If solid beliefs and basic knowledge are acquired at this time, the future will be successful.

MRS. ELLIOTT
Mathematics

SISTER MARCELLINE FALK
Physics, Mathematics

Students should hope to grow spiritually, mentally, socially, and physically in order to contribute their share in the service of God and neighbor.

MR. FLANAGAN
Mathematics

MISS FLOOD
Mathematics

Each student should challenge himself academically and not take "easy" courses; after all, isn't that what school is for?

MRS. FOELLER
Latin, Social Studies

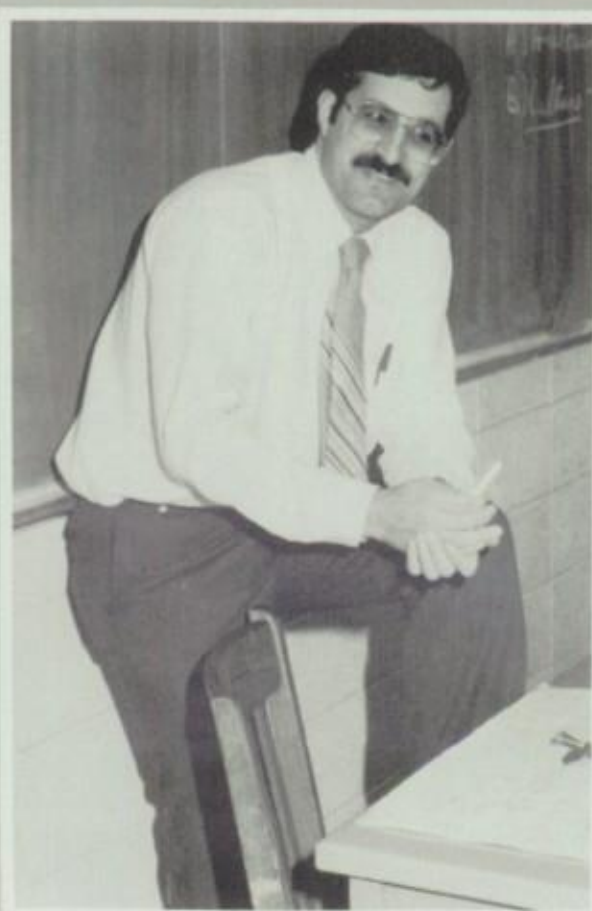

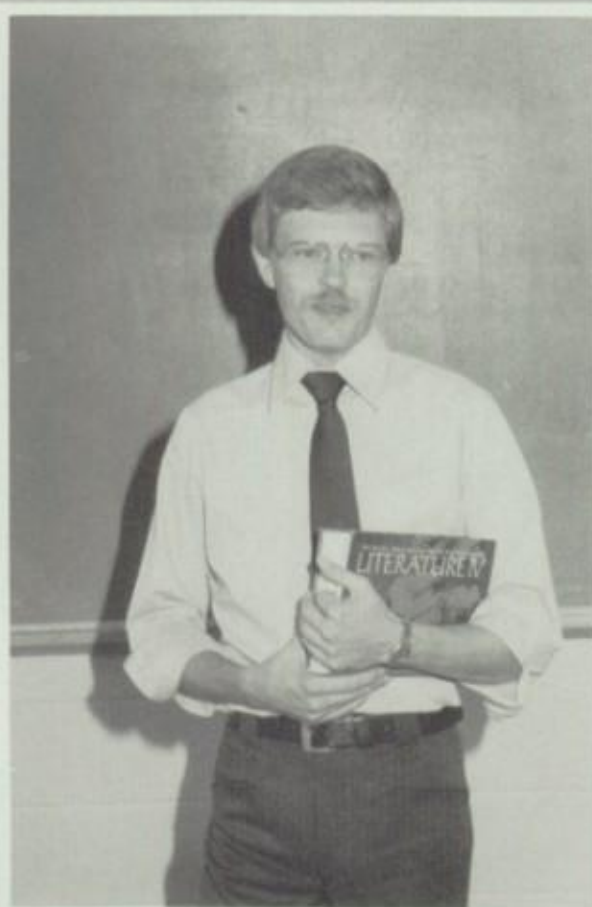

Get the most out of every minute you spend here in order to develop your unique talents and personalities.

FATHER FUNKE
Biology

When you look up into the sky at night and see all those stars twinkling, it makes you realize earth isn't everything; it is only the local franchise.

*Confidence
-- go for it!*

MRS. GERBERT
Mathematics

How will your life make the world a better place? Set goals and strive to attain them. Work hard, but don't forget to learn to relax and enjoy yourself. Be kind.

MISS GIARDINA
Reading

A student at DB should try to soak up all the knowledge and enjoyment this school has to offer and never take this time for granted.

MR. GIEDINGHAGEN
English

Particularly in grammar and composition, I'd like the students to be able to correct themselves when I'm no longer there to do it for them.

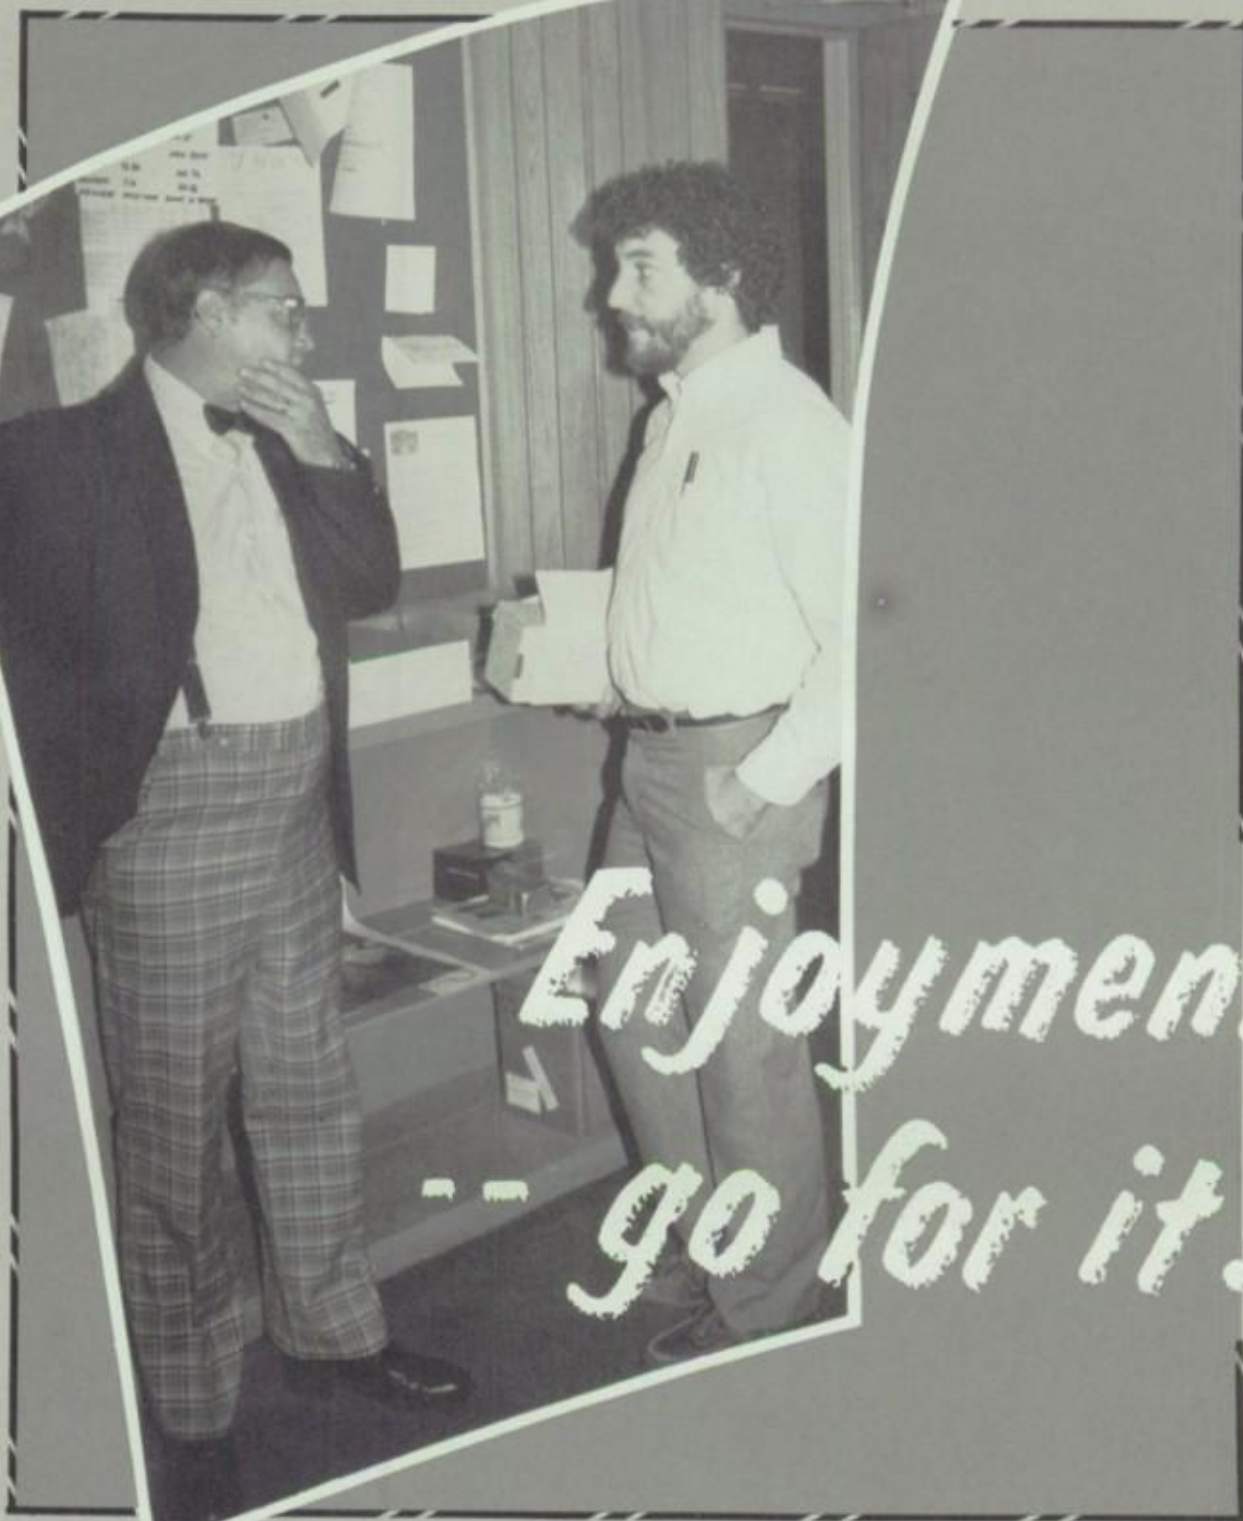

MR. GIOIA
Religion

MRS. GRUSZKA
Guidance

Openness to and involvement with the rich variety of people and resources here could result in tremendous growth as a person, equipping him to deal effectively with life.

MR. MARK HACKER
Social Studies, Physical Education

Go to high school to develop self-discipline and good work habits that will help you be a success in later life.

*Enjoyment
-- go for it!*

MR. FRED HOF
Social Studies

Students should take the most challenging program they can in high school. This will prepare them for life and the duty to work hard.

MR. RON HOF
English

High school should be a time and place of fond memories cradled in the challenge of a bright future.

MR. HANEBRINK
Guidance

I would hope that each student would be able to go into life confident and prepared to meet whatever comes along.

SISTER FRANCES THERESE HANSMAN
Religion

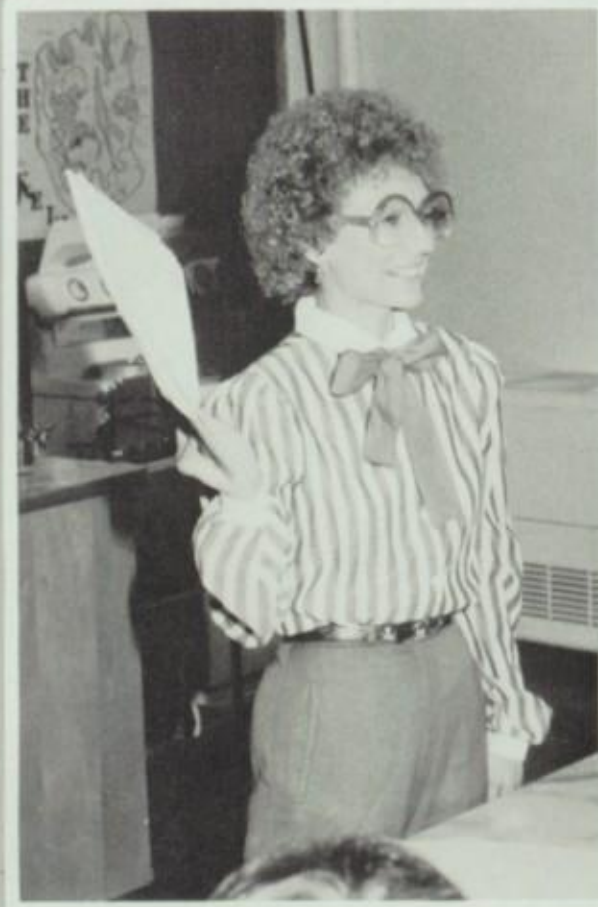

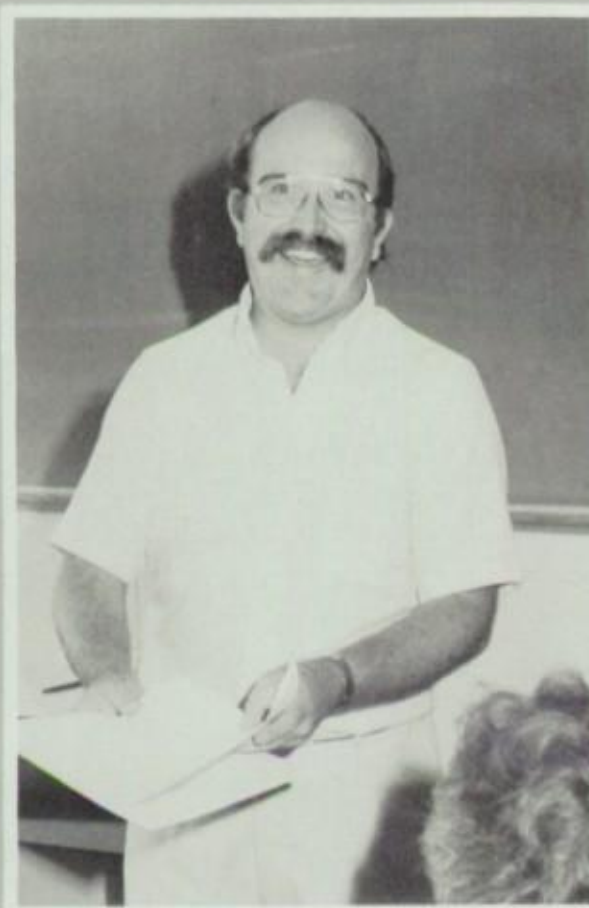

MR. JANNETT
Religion

MISS JOHNSON
French

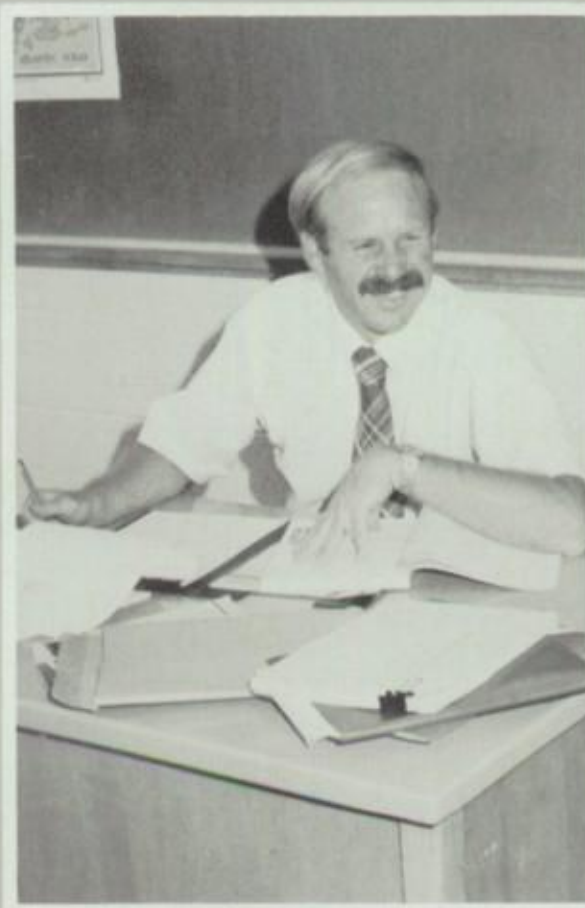

MRS. KEIL
Biology

MR. JOBST
English

High school — the time to unfold, unwrap, build, begin,
to dip and to soar
to begin to be more.

MR. JOKERST
Social Studies

Students should be involved in all they can,
and then work to be the best they can.

MISS KOETTING
English

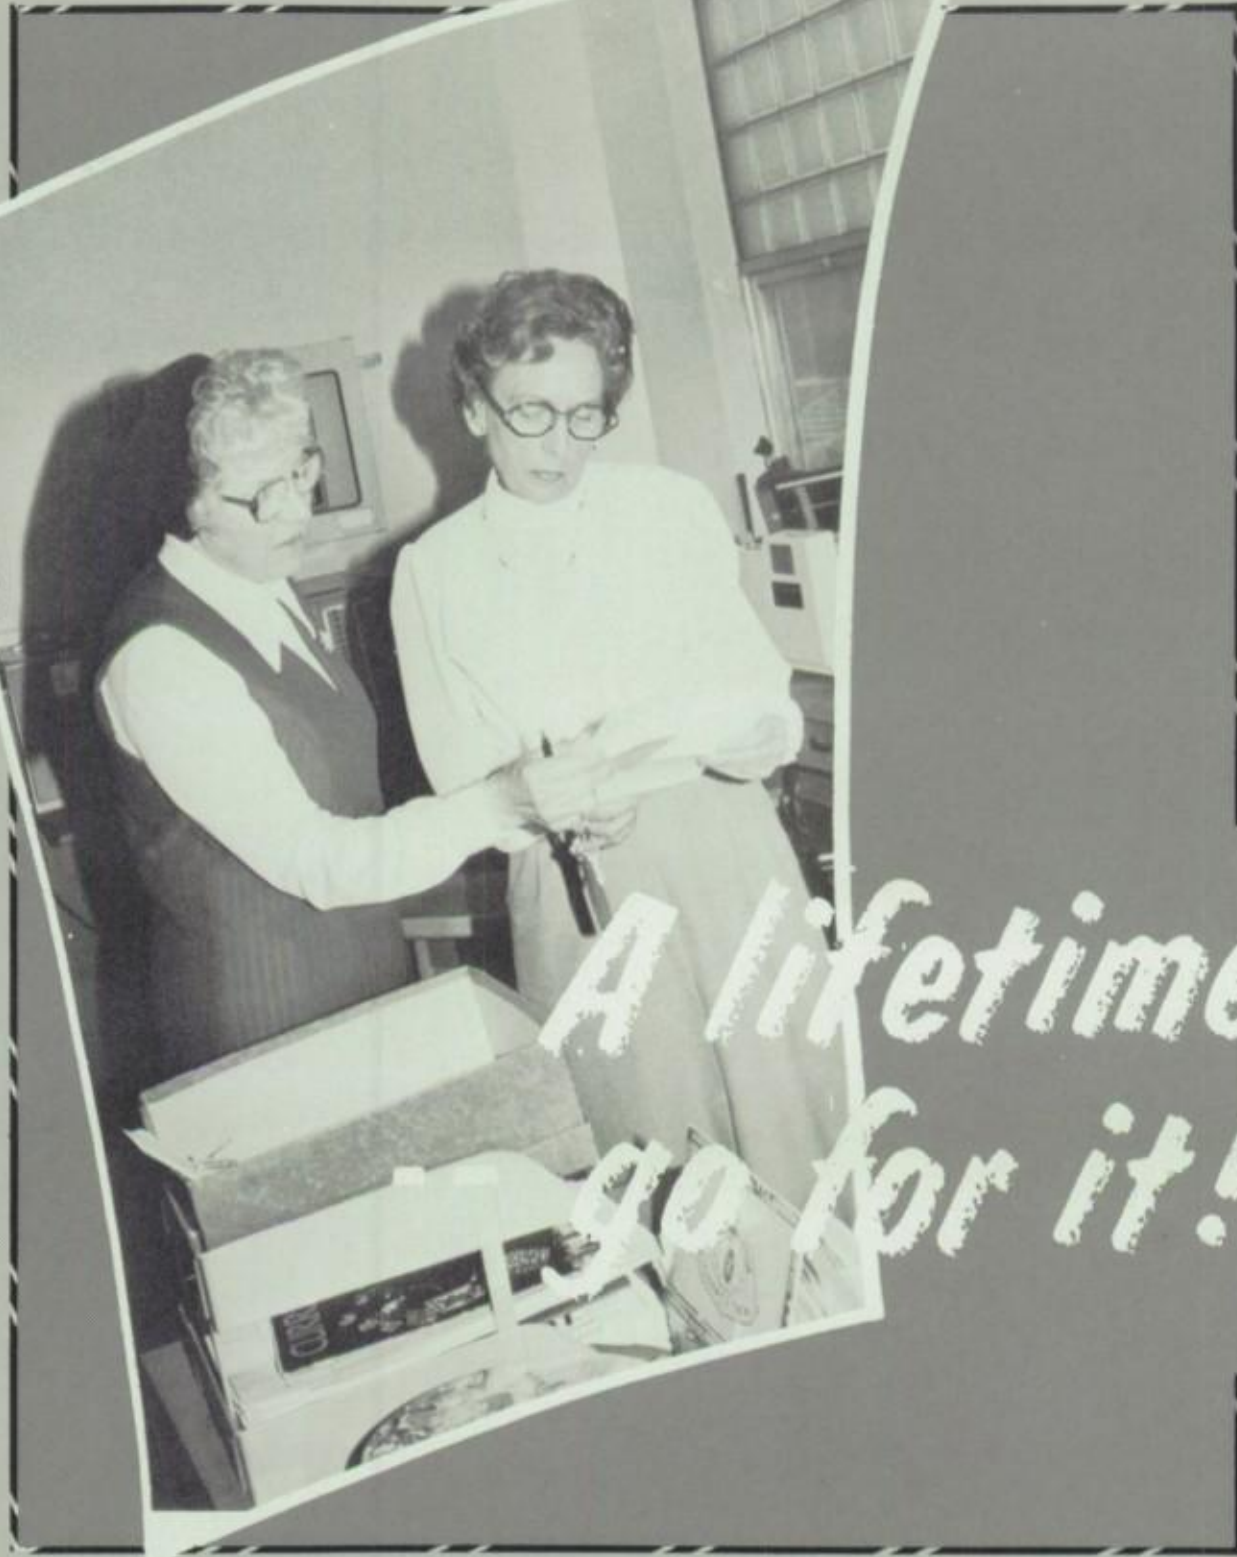

Study hard and learn as much as possible.
Those going on to college will be grateful for the preparation; those leaving school after graduation will find it easier to get a job.

MISS KUMMER
Art

MRS. LATRAGNA
Mathematics

Every high school student should strive to be the best person they can possibly be.

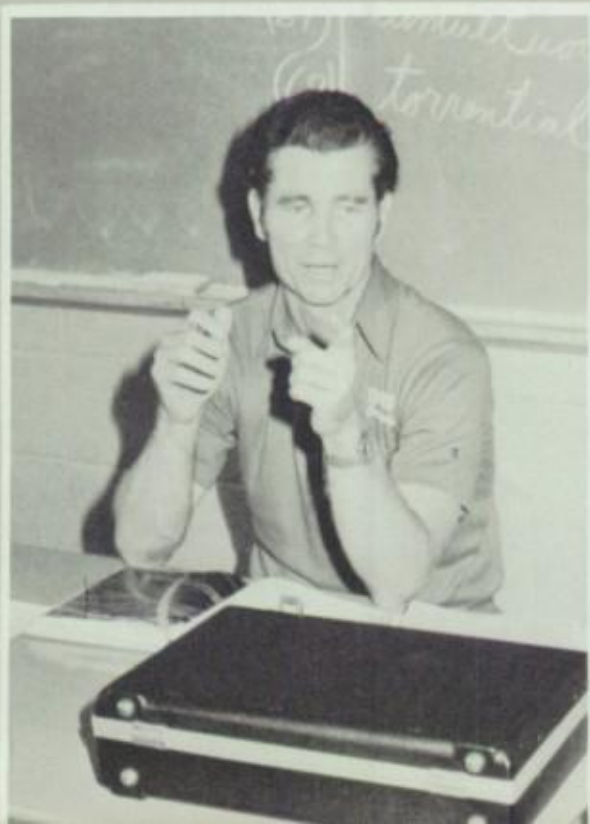

MR. LAUMANN
English, Physical Education

Strive to accomplish a higher level of understanding and practical knowledge as a stepping stone to future endeavors.

MR. LEIBRECHT
Theatre, English

A student should try to learn, to do, and to be as much as is possible in four years. It will last a lifetime.

MRS. LEIBRECHT
Religion

MR. LIFT
Mathematics

A student should grow in faith, hope, charity, knowledge, and self-discipline.

MRS. LINDERER
Business

For many students this is their last experience with formal education; therefore, they should strive not only academically, but socially to attain self-esteem.

MR. MACKSEY
Social Studies

MR. MATUSIAK
Physical Education

MISS MCDEVITT
English

A student needs to become involved — in studies, in sports, in extracurriculars — so that school is more than just going to class.

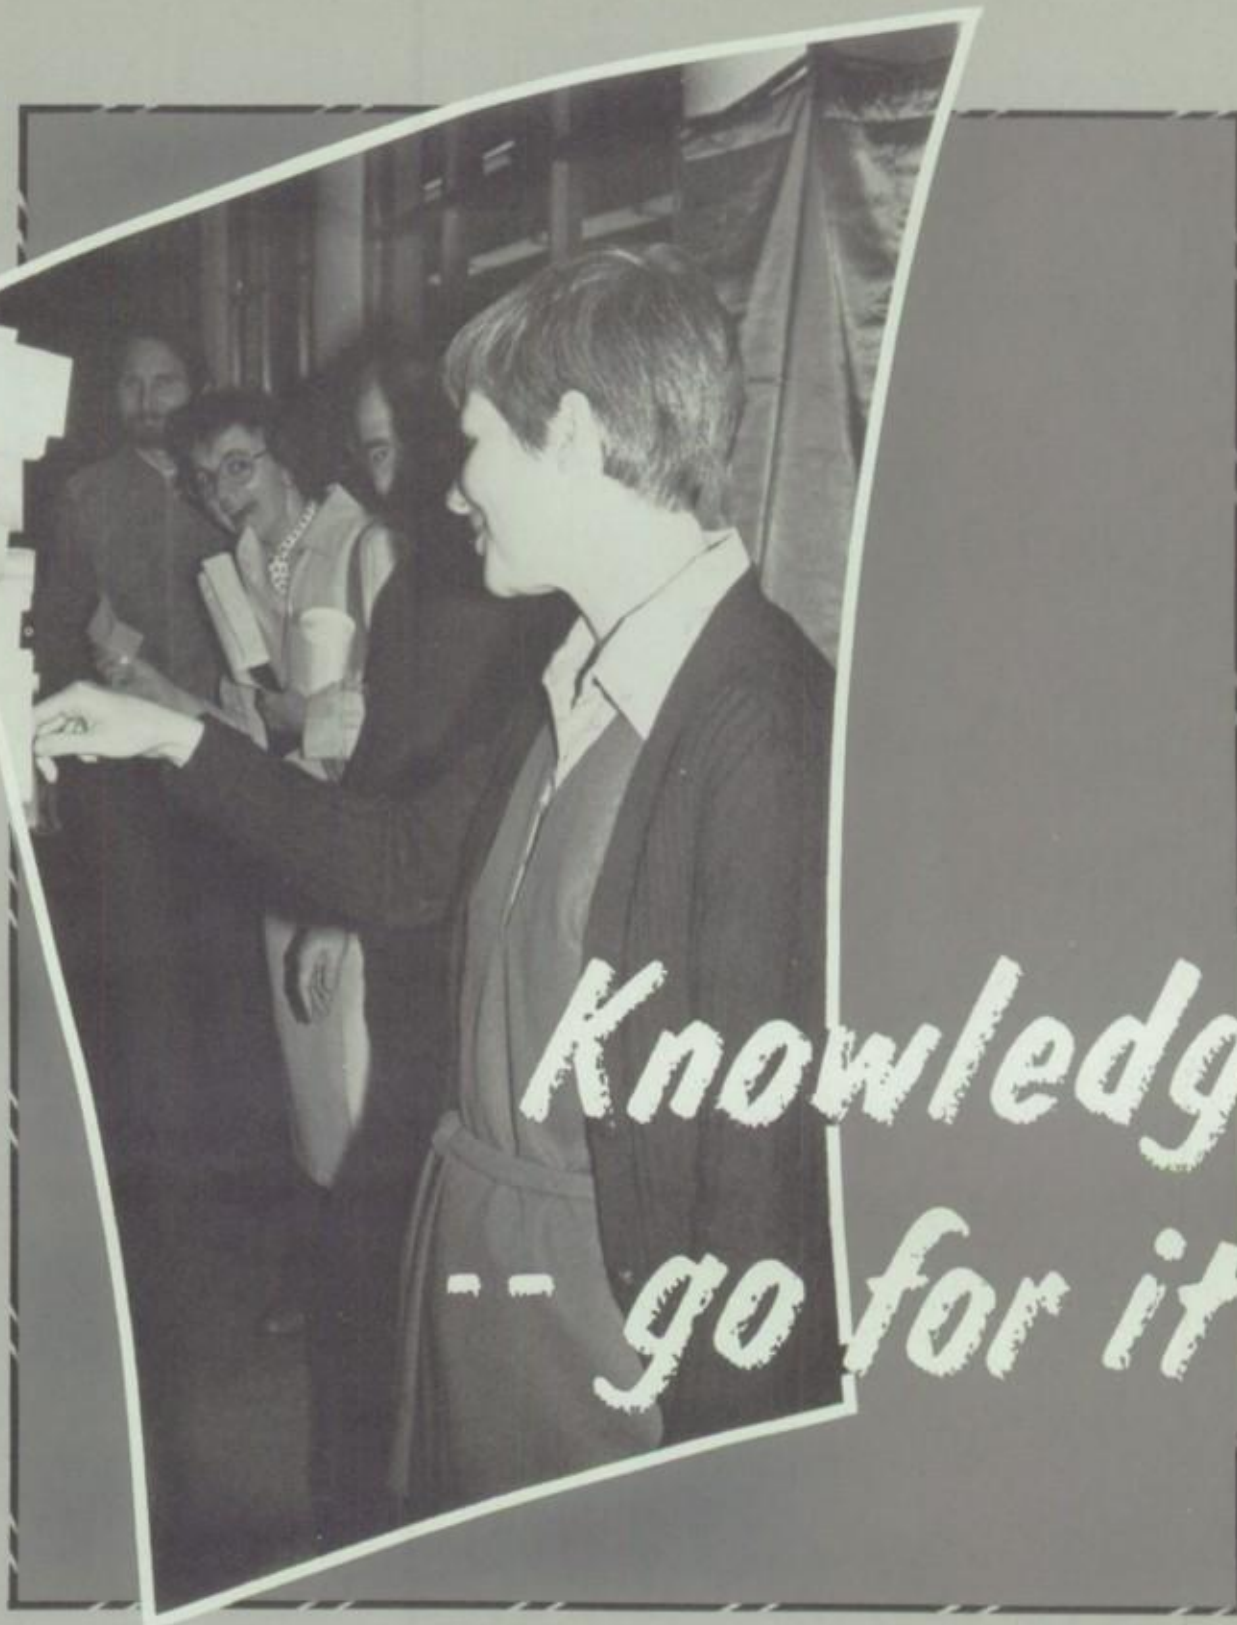

MR. MERCURIO
Mechanical Drawing, Industrial Art

Industrial arts education offers preparation for the way of life in today's world. It welcomes both male and female into its classroom.

MR. MERRIOTT
Spanish

I hope that a student would be able to say that he grew as a person as a result of his four years here. We — students and faculty — grew together and are better for it.

FATHER MITULSKI
Religion

MISS MOHR
Business

High school is a very special and wonderful time that whizzes by so fast. Absorb as much as you can academically, socially, and spiritually.

MRS. MUELLER
Science, Mathematics

MR. NAEGELI
Guidance

MRS. O'HANLON
Library

MR. MUENSTER
Religion

I like to see kids discover how good they really are and to share the "good news" with all of us.

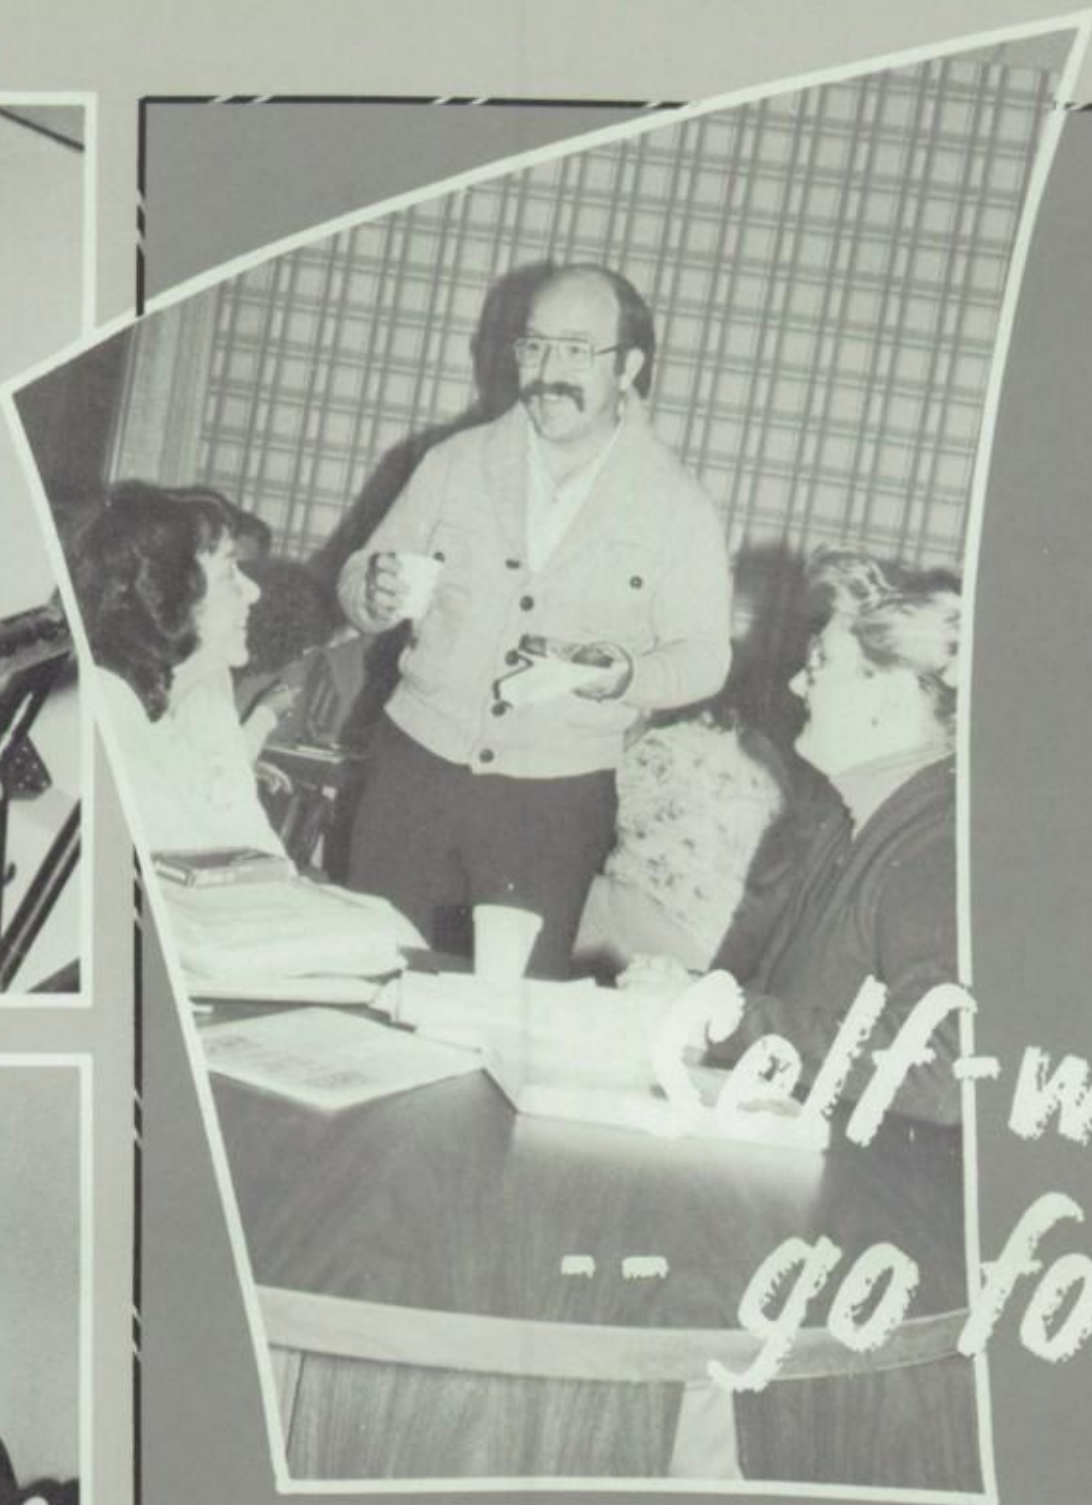

SISTER HELEN THERESE NIENHAUS
German, French

Become a well-rounded person, with a variety of interests. Learn skills that will enable one to continue learning all one's life.

MISS O'HARE
Physical Education

I hope students will be able to make intelligent use of resources in school and community libraries and will form a lifetime friendship with books.

MR. PALUMBO
Reading, Psychology

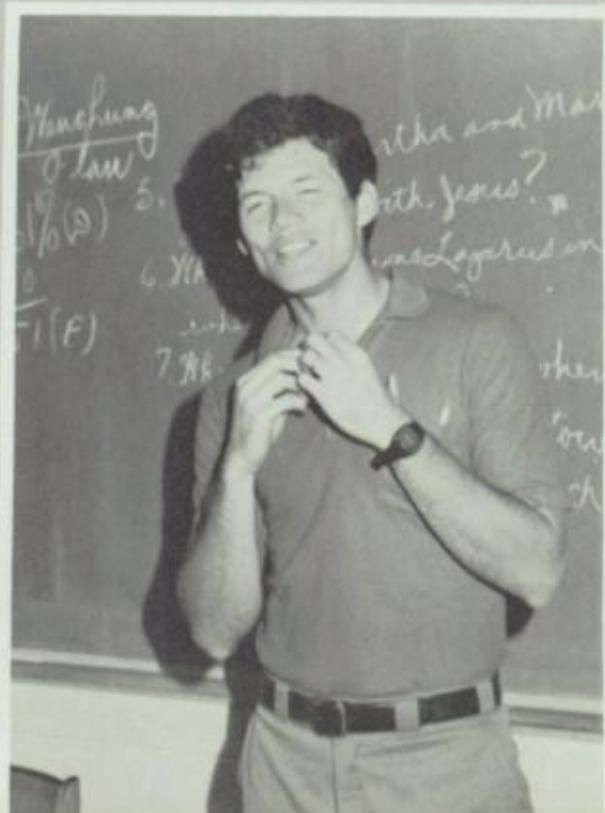

Reach for your potential, be proud of your successes, forget your failures, and, if you attain your aspirations — reach higher.

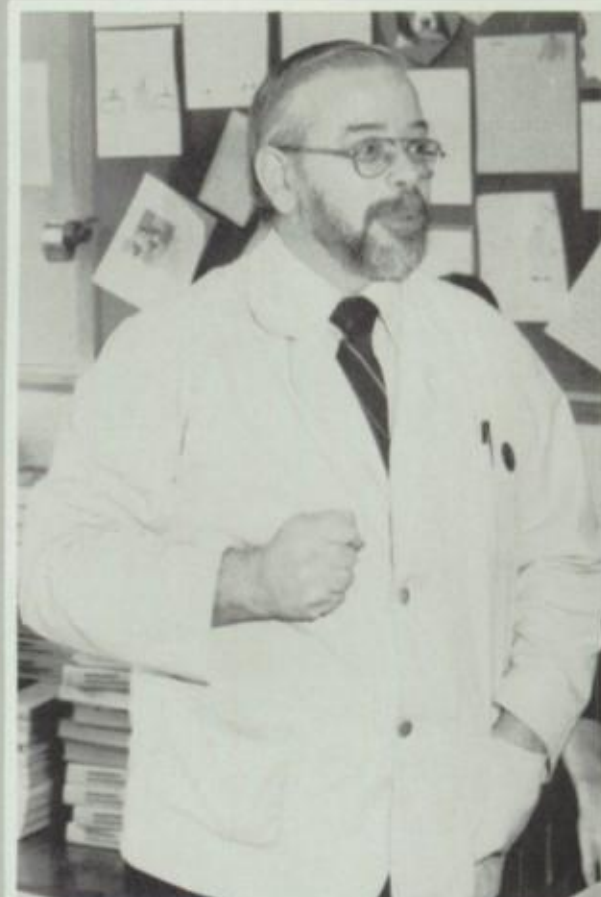

MR. RADOMSKI
Religion

MRS. OWENS
Mathematics

FATHER PALAZZOLO
Religion

I would like students to graduate with a real sense of self-worth that comes from knowing that God loves them — and so do all of us here at DuBourg.

MR. RASURE
Business

Education is more than subject matter; it's working when I don't feel like working, it's following rules without asking "why".

MR. REGAN
Religion

I hope that students will be able to mature into responsible individuals. I hope they acquire wisdom and experience, and not just book knowledge.

MRS. REID
English

After four years here, I hope students would leave with critical thinking skills — the ability to distinguish between what appears to be and what is.

MR. RIGDON
Social Studies

There are two kinds of people in the world, those who can create and those who can only criticize those who create.

MR. ROBBEN
Social Studies, Religion

MRS. ROBBERSON
Home Economics, Art

Students learn basic and advanced skills in Foods and Sewing. In Parenting, they begin to understand themselves, their families, and the families of the future.

FATHER RUBBELKE
Chemistry

MRS. SCHAEFFER
Guidance

DuBourg is a series of endless opportunities. Join some extracurricular activity and take some risks.

*The future
-- go for it!*

MISS SCHEVE
Religion

A student should try to be a whole person — integrating academics, sports, extracurriculars, and social life — to do the best they can while enjoying what they are doing.

SISTER BARBARA SCHLATTER
English

DuBourg students should seek to read with understanding, to write with clarity, and to love with gentleness all those persons they encounter — especially themselves.

SISTER JOAN SCHNORBUS
English

If, by the time of graduation, students have begun to recognize and appreciate the mystical power of words, they will have achieved at least the beginning of learning.

MRS. SCHULTZ
English

I try to impress upon the students their options for potential, which, if recognized, will help them become more successful students of life.

MRS. SCULLY
Reading

It's important to really confront tasks so that you can find out for yourself what you are capable of doing when you are organized and trying hard.

SISTER MARY JAMES SHINE
Social Studies

American History students should always remember that, if you do not run the country, the country will run you.

MRS. SIMPSON
Business

With self-confidence students will recognize and develop their own uniqueness, learn to think for themselves, and accept responsibility for their own decisions.

MR. SMITH
English

Learn to be the best person you can be. Nobody knows your capabilities better than you.

FATHER SUIT
Religion

Students who are confident about themselves and begin to understand how valuable they are, have been tremendously successful in high school.

MRS. TECU
Home Economics

ORIENTATION

With Orientation Day, Aug. 23, high school began for 456 freshmen. They started the day with one hour of homeroom with their homeroom teacher copying their schedules, getting lockers, and receiving general instructions. The continued with some 10-minute classes and ended with a cafeteria assembly with their coordinators, Mrs. Elliott and Mr. Flanagan.

1. Ricky Sutton. 2. Linda York, Diane O'Connell, Dave Nunnally. 3. Roy Goetz, Devora Mangum. 4. Mrs. Elliott, Craig Hunter.

Around 1500 students and their dates "went Hawaiian" and attended the outdoor dance Sept. 2 to "kick off" the new school year. Flowered shirts, leis, and grass skirts swirled and swayed on the parking lot just outside the Hampton entrance. The band — which rocked the neighborhood — was KHTR's famous Candy Band. Everyone was excited about the big turnout, especially when they learned this was the biggest dance DuBourg has had in eleven years.

1. Carolyn Krapf, Kathy Armstrong. 2. Diane Juergens, Val Mattler. 3. and 4. Students and friends with The Candy Band.

KICKOFF

SENIOR MASS

1. Tom Adler, Terri Blunt, Alan Muenster.
 2. Front: Peggy Argus, Robin Dressendorfer, Karen Hazzard, Doris Backsmann. Row 2: Stacy Young, Janey McGauley, Michele

- Travaglini. Back: Teresa Preston, Donna Zimmermann. 3. Sister Geraldine, Joe Niemira. 4. Father Mitulski, Don Fruhwirth.

Tradition was broken as the Class of '84 received their rings during junior year and, consequently, celebrated "Senior Day" in place of "Ring Day" Sept. 16. Because of the extreme heat, Holy Mass was offered in St. Gabriel's air-conditioned church. Sister Geraldine and Mr. Hacker presented each senior a carnation as they arrived, and at the Mass each senior was individually blessed by one of the concelebrants: Father Suit, Father Palazzolo, Father Mitulski, Father Funke. All were pleased with the celebration — and the holiday — and many said the class felt really unified and special.

1. Lisa Missey, Molly Shea, Dawn Oglesby.
2. Judy Seper, Gary Most. 3. Marge Murphy. 4. Mr. Hacker, Sister Geraldine, Bill Novak, Mike Jaudes, Michele McGahan.

SENIOR DANCE

1. Jim Faust '83, Betsy Fahey, Tracy Engel. 2. Maria Allen '83, Steve Cannon, Michele McGahan. 3. Greg Thomas with date, Patty Frigerio, Barry Sertl. 4. Dave Marty, Ricky Frederick, John McGuire, Nick Do-

chele McGahan. 3. Greg Thomas with date, Patty Frigerio, Barry Sertl. 4. Dave Marty, Ricky Frederick, John McGuire, Nick Do-

Senior Day was observed with a Holy Mass, a holiday, and a Senior Dance Friday, Sept. 16. All "Looked for gold at the end of the rainbow" as seniors decorated the gym and juniors festooned the exhibition hall to that colorful theme. The band, Progress, helped put music into the lives of the Class of '84, and a photographer captured the rainbowed evening forever as couples posed beside a fountain to have keepsake pictures taken. Juniors served punch and cookies for a night that was memorable, even though there were no new rings to show off.

1. Phil Krull and date, Tracey Kraus, Bob Montgomery, Darrell Boulicault, Lisa Curran. 2. Joan Mattingly, Cindy Seeber, Lynn Brackett. 3. Bill Flynn, Amy Huighe. 4. Dawn Visconti and date, Kim Filla and date.

RALLY

1. Janelle Bock, Peggy Backsmann, Melvin Taschler. 2. Front: Robert Groszewski, John Elbert. Row 2: Peter Fan, Jim Lewis,

Tim Butz. Back: Dave Kramer, Tim Huelsman, Joe Niemira, Glen Gansmann. 3. Curt Otis, Toni Boyer, Kathy Acord, Sue Kraus. 4. Jenny Bambrick, Diane Hubeli, Sharon Barry, Vicki Hooper.

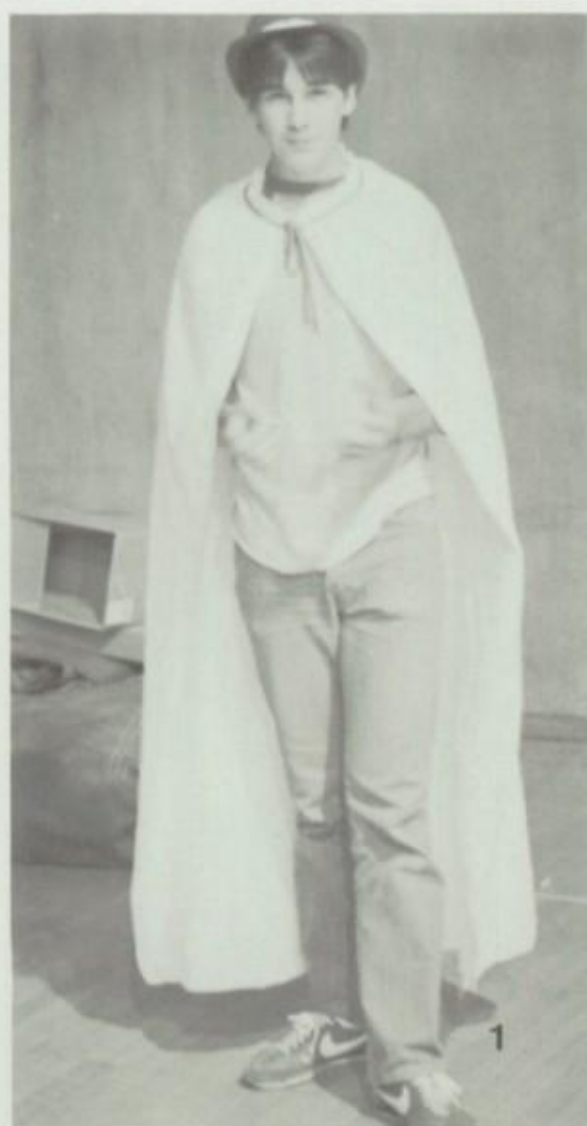

In the heat and brightness of a sun afternoon, students and teachers rallied out on the bleachers to whip up their spirit for the Homecoming Weekend. Cheerleaders pepped up the crowd as each of the teams was introduced to the fans. Pom Pon girls entertained with a special routine. Individuals and groups cheered loudly for their favorites. Even though the Homecoming Court was not announced until the Homecoming Dance, the rally was lively.

1. Bonnie Hill, Angie Smith, Denise Hutnyk, Rose Mantia. 2. Front: Sue Sewester, Mari Dickson. Middle: Joe Hughes, Dennis Forsythe, Tim Intagliata. Back: Eric Schuchardt, Keith Hoernschemeyer, Steve Woolford. 3. Mary Therese Benden. 4. Pom Pon girls.

OLYMPICS

1. Vince Flavin. 2. Unnamed freshman, Sue Smart, Dave Marty, Norbert Butz. 3. Sue Smart. 4. Jim Weldon, Roy Monti, Dave Krieger, Hank Vasill, Dave Plumley.

Juniors took first place — or gold medals — as about 340 students came to take part in Olympic Night Oct. 14. Games included passing lifesavers on toothpicks and balloon stomping. Traditional relays called for wild activity and many contestants found look-alike shoes a disaster. During the evening Vince Flavin was announced as Mr. Cavalier of 1983. After the games, the group gathered outside for the bonfire at the edge of the football field.

1. Barry Sertl, Lisa O'Neill. 2. Bonfire. 3. Top: Jim Wildon, Dave Krieger, Ty Gray. Bottom: Dave Plumley. 4. Theresa Marshall, Nick VonFeldt, Tracy Emerson.

HOMECOMING

Freshmen and sophomores decorated for the Homecoming Dance while upperclasses were in charge of clean-up. About 400 students danced to Savage and watched Marge Murphy crowned queen. Her attendants: Seniors Theresa Budrovich, Robin Dressendof-er, Juniors Lisa Denzel, Rosie Fogarty, sophomore Janelle Bock, and freshman Rita Carolli.

1. Robin Dressendofer. 2. Dan Hahn, Marge Murphy. 3. Dave Marty, Rosie Fogarty. 4. Mike Lynch, Rita Carolli.

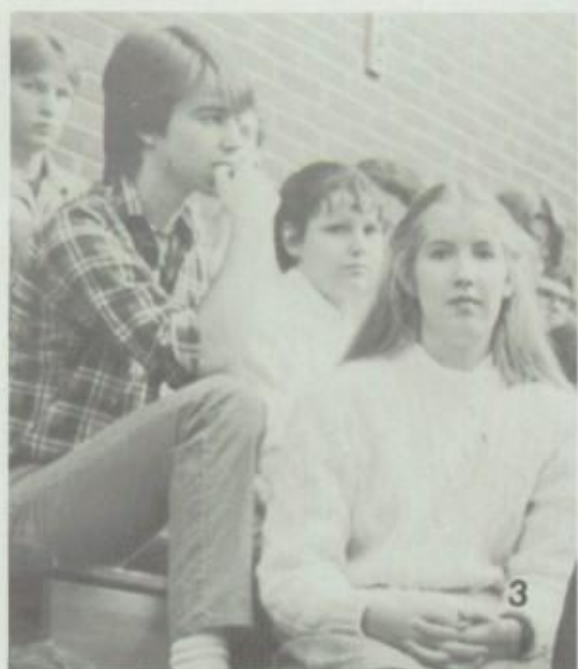

1. Front: Dave Voss, Jim Schaeffer. Back: Barb Hinkebein, Debbie Banstetter, Jeannie Callanan, Kathy Armstrong, Michelle Blanchard, Kelly Ecker. 2. Amy Fassi, Marie Cook, Donna Phillips. 3. Barb Hinkebein. 4. Diane Cornell, Lisa Curran, Pam Nowak, Marcia Kunze.

All groups of the Music Department helped "to entertain you" as they presented a Broadway Night Oct. 29 and 30 in the school gym. Chamber Singers, Pius X Chorus, Freshman Girls Chorus, the Stage Band and the Concert Band performed for over 700 guests seated at tables in night club style. In addition to group performances, there were solos and small group presentations. Seniors Dana Lewis and Sue Ocello led a special dance number.

BROADWAY NIGHT

FATHER RITTER

DuBourg was privileged this fall to host a talk by Father Ritter, founder of Covenant House in New York City. Students from other Catholic secondary schools joined DuBourg seniors and juniors to fill the audience with over 1100 who heard Father tell of the service being done for runaway children at this and other houses now being formed. Inspired by Father's compassion and work, some senior boys have expressed a desire to join a Covenant House staff.

1. Phil Krull, Keith Hoernschemeyer, Phil Rochete, Jill Wegmann. 2. Monsignor Reilly, Father Ritter, Sister Geraldine, Doctor Gruszka. 3. Chris Von Feldt, Patty Loduka, Lynn Brackett. 4. Audience.

With Steve Cannon in the title role, the Guild Players presented Bram Stokes' Dracula Oct. 21, 22, and 23. Paula Cavanaugh as Lucy, Dracula's lovely victim, was supported by Bob Mazanec, Jim Eichhorst, and Joe Maugeri as father, fiance, and insightful physician. Mike Hely and Robin Widman rounded out the cast as the demented patient and the loyal house servant. John Winkler served as another domestic. Many attending commented on the intricacy of the set.

1. Paula Cavanaugh, Bob Mazanec, Joe Maugeri. 2. Paula Cavanaugh, Jim Eichhorst. 3. Bob Mazanec, Mike Hely. 4. Steve Cannon, Robin Widman.

DRACULA

HALLOWEEN

Over 400 little children attended the Halloween Party given by the Pro-Life Club for children of the area. Mostly children of teachers, DuBourg alumni, or relatives of present students, they "followed the Yellow Brick Road" Oct. 31 to all sorts of fun and games as well as a haunted house. A group of clowns entertained; there was also a cake walk. The Pro-Life Club was happy to be able to hold the party again this year. Last year the building was not available.

1. Mary Vitale, Lynda Migneco. 2. Visitors and Sherri Ruzicka. 3. Mary Vitale, Lynda Migneco. 4. Kids and Joe Goedeker.

A total of 365 seventh and eighth graders and their parents toured the school on the first Sunday of November as DuBourg held Open House. Coming from 72 parishes they were able to learn more about the school and its atmosphere from the many programs offered. Student guides gave tours while teachers in all departments staffed information booths in the cafeteria. Athletic performances and music offerings entertained the guests.

Almost 950 people were screened at the Second Annual Health Fair here Nov. 29 and 30. Nurse Mr. Paul Kuehnert was pleased with the success and proud of the Foods Class which presented a Nutrition Booth. Officials from the Nursing Association were greatly impressed. Students were tested for vision, anemia, blood pressure, and diabetes. They were weighed and measured for height. Student volunteers were trained in advance to administer the tests. All test results were examined by registered nurses and verified if necessary.

BLOOD DRIVE

Giving a pint of blood at the first semester Blood Bank were 146 people. This year's city theme is "Join our team." After the donating, individuals were asked to fill out a questionnaire. Most of those giving said they liked the idea of knowing that they were directly helping someone in need, maybe saving a life. Gloria Seper, DuBourg chairperson of the drive, said she found people a lot more spirited in donating blood this year than they were other years.

1. Steve Saffa. 2. Donna Schomaker, Gary Schlicher, Kim Brady. 3. Kim Brady. 4. Mary Morris.

With a cast of 30, the largest in many years for a drama, the Guild Players performed William Saroyan's The Time of Your Life Dec. 9, 10, and 11. New actors — Mitch Kinstler, Mike Kessler, Ed Roessler, and Marty McClanahan — joined regulars, Joe Maugeri, Jim Joyce, and Mary Beth Scherr, for the production. The Sunday night performance was sold out as over 250 persons came to see their friends in a comedy set in a San Francisco bar.

CONCERT

1. Dr. Gruszka as Santa. 2. Front: Anne Eppler, Laurie Zell, Denise O'Connell. Row 2: Lisa Jennings, Michele Ferrara, Lisa Davis. Row 3: Lisa Engel, Beth Williams, Michele Pergadia. Row 4: Janice Campbell, Stressing an "old-fashioned" Christmas, the Music Department presented a concert Dec. 18. The freshman girls chorus sang a medley of carols as Sherre Fedke mimed and Jim Eichhorst narrated the story. About 400 heard the Pius X Chorus, the Chamber Singers, and the two bands perform. Part of the show engaged the audience in a sing-along. Near the end of the performance, Dr. Gruszka, as Santa, won gleeful smiles from all the little children in the audience.

Chris,

So I'm the first one to sign it, huh? Since I can only use a page, I'll narrow it down to a couple things. ① Beckie ② Adam ③ everything else - just kidding! I don't really know what to say about this year; it was great for me; but not as great for us. (You know what I mean?) Religion was a lot of fun especially in Mr. Regan's class. I can't believe some of the things people said in

Chris,

I'm glad I got to know you this year. I hope you have a great summer! See ya next year!!

Love,
Ann

Chris
you're real sweet and nice girl, stay that way. Have a wonderful summer
and good luck and happiness always.

Love ya,
K.I.T. Georgina 481-9263
"Feb 156"
see ya!

Chris -

It's been a great year.
Too bad it ended too soon.
Take care of yourself,
Keep in touch.

Glenn Rork
(389-6288)

Chris,

To a very very very special friend to seem a long year but we made it and you listen here girl you better call me alot over the summer you're really sweet and are always there for me. Stay cute and I'm glad we stayed friends through everything don't forget Washington

Kick 25, Love
Gorri

Chris

Chemistry was a blast this year with our 2 air-headed teachers. I wish I could say we got to be good friends this year but maybe ~~no~~ next year. Have a great summer & don't try to cause too much trouble with Lorri! Love, Darren 781-9210

hi, you're a really really great friend, who really like alot. Thanks for being a true friend who I can trust and really talk to. We'll have to eat lunch again next year!" -

Another year has passed by and I enjoyed about half of it. History has been about 90% better than French. I'm passing! Maybe next year we will be in more classes together have fun of the summer and I will see you around.

Chris,
well you are a real sweet girl. You better get some guys. You cute enough. Still friends with Kim M.
She's a riot! She is actually supposed to meet or supposed to well hope to see you over the summer

Chris,
 all what else write it. Can't remember all of it. You are a real person el forgot the ady for person.
 How bout nice. el couldnt have made it through history out your big mouth. Maybe this summer we can go look for hobos on turtles together. KIT 645-1991

Chris
 I hope you have a great summer and a nice next year.
 Joe

Chris,
 you are truly a sweet person. Thank you for everything that you've done for me this year...
 Especially in Typing! You've got more patience than I'll ever have! & You the best little fart I've known.
 I'll have to do some stuff over the summer - when I'm not working that is.
 Maybe you'll be working w/me.

Stay as sweet as you are!
 Keep Smiling! ☺

Love ya forever!

Chris,
 you're a real nice person and I'm glad I met you this year. Come and see me at 518 F/1995. I'm sure you'll be there. Well have fun.

Love, Mari

Chris,
 I am glad we had one class together.
 I know we haven't talked in such a long time. Have a great summer. KIT

Chris, sweet and a real nice girl
 I'm glad we were friends.
 you take care and have a great summer.
 Hope we were in some classes together next year. Love ya, Rose

Chris,
 you're a really sweet guy and a great friend who I'm glad I got to meet ya freshman year, and I'm even gladder
 I got to know you better sophomore and junior year. You're a really great person and I'm glad to be able to call you my friend. Remember... Roxanna & Linda helped me out when I'd gotten truancy - this is gonna pound stupid, but I know you'll make me pay it - What I really want to thank you for was helping me get to go to the Saturday concert - Don't ever forget our T.E.C. and the people we met on it (well, you can forget one person - Si) you tell me when Breverly writes you! I know we'll be seeing each other over the summer a lot. AND we're going to Six Flags a lot - I don't pass 2) I won't say, but you know what it is for, DONT YA! We're going to get our licenses - 17 yrs old - No license's - that's terrible Remember - that time I was at your house and I fell and broke the glass. It was really.

it! Go for it! Go for

CHRIS,
 I'm glad you were in my chemistry class so I could cheat on SS
 You will have fun during the summer. You were very smart & funny we'll see later love

 LIVES ON.

Chris, it's well, it's surely been fun at lunch this year! and even though we did go out to get one - we have to get to get summer and call me (28-29/8)
 See ya next year

May 22nd 2007
 I didn't go though, because I was not in the mood to go to the beach. I was in the mood to stay home and read books.

great sharing a locker w/you even though we fought all the time about books falling all over the place, but it was fun
 Don't ever forget New Years Eve, I know I won't, Your Grandma won't either for a while. I'll miss Tom Cruise hanging up in the locker, and I know I've got to say it. The picture of it! Go for it!

Someday! I really won't miss Tom that much because of the big poster you got me for my b-day - when I wake up in the morn'
 I want to see his gorgeous face, Remember Don't ever forget

That we went to see 'Risky Business' and all the rest. I was employed, but now I'm unemployed.
